Antique 19th Century French Oak Vitrine Cabinet

Lovely curves and carvings accentuate this striking oak Vitrine or display cabinet from France. Note the carved details of birds and flourishes between the lower cabinet doors, and above, the tied vines dividing the glazed panels in the doors. The carved details continue on the panels of the broad canted corners and around to the canted sides. The interior top section is still lined with a vintage damask fabric (which is very common in France to do) but can be removed by the buyer if desired. Please take a moment to enlarge the photos and examine the details up close. This large cabinet is built in 2 sections, making installation easier. Please examine the close up photos to appreciate the lovely details of this French vitrine.
