Large 18th Century Antique Chinese Red Lacquered Sideboard Console

This magnificent sideboard makes an impressive visual statement due to its substantial size (over 10' long) and the truly remarkable color. It still maintains the original red paint, gently faded through the years revealing a slight orange undertone and is protected with a traditional lacquer finish. Please examine and enlarge the close up photos to appreciate the beauty, depth and texture of the color. Notice the photo of the top, where you see the paint was worn down to the elm wood below. The effect is captivating and reveals the age and character of this stunning massive console.
