Carved Antique Early 19th Century Danish Oak Armoire

This handsome, large oak armoire is even more impressive in person due to the extensive hand carved details such as lion heads and floral embellishments seen throughout its exterior. The large carved crown molding sits above heavily paneled sides and 2 raised paneled doors, with a pair of small drawers below. This stately armoire reminds one of a time when exceptional craftsmanship was respected, and furniture itself was built to stand the test of time. Sold in as is, original used condition.
