Early 19th Century Antique German Biedermeier Mahogany Secretary Desk

This handsome biedermeier mahogany drop front bureau is made in three sections with drawers below and a fitted interior above. While secretaries are know for their multiple interior drawers and cubbies, this one is unique as it has an additional upper section that opens to reveal a desk top area protected by green felt and additional open storage on the right side for pens, ink, or other needs. Please take a moment to enlarge the photos and examine the details up close.
