Antique Original Painted White Door With Carved Accents, Perfect Interior Sliding Door

Unique doors have become a statement piece in home interiors, and this one is bound to make a great impression. All the carved accents add dimension, such as the "roof" style crown with finials on each side, and the 4 heavy panels with circular carved motif in each one. The natural distressing is a reflection of the door's age, and adds to the vintage character of the door, including where the paint has worn off completely, and the broken carved accent in the bottom right panel. This door is sold in as is original condition, including the attached hardware (notice some is original and some were added later to the door).
