Antique 10' Long Red Painted Primitive Work Console Table With Shelf

At just under 10' long, it is the incredible aged patina that invites one to run your fingers down the long top of this striking console table. The natural pine top and shelf are complimented by the original painted brick red legs while even the stains and marks add to the overall appeal of this wonderful worn work table. Every gouge, crack and stain indicate it was well used, while the simple age-related separation of planks reflects generations who stood working over its surface. This long console with shelf has been restored and waxed so it is strong, stable, and ready for use.
