Antique Pine Slab Coffee Table With Splay Legs

The attraction of this coffee table is the wood itself, the 1.5" thick plank top is accented by the splay legs which also accent the top itself. Notice in the photo of the top the age related cracks, dings and slight bow which add to the authentic vintage "feel" of the table but do not affect function in any way. The original splay legs remind one of its humble country beginnings. Expected age-related separation of wood is seen with old filler visible in parts. This pine coffee table has been restored and waxed, so is strong, stable and ready for use.
