Antique Original Green Painted Farm Trestle Table, Dining or Console

For those who search for a genuine European country farm table this 6 1/2' green painted harvest table is a fun find. The wonderful, age-distressed green paint of the trestle base is all original, and is complimented by the pine plank top that has aged to a deep patina only naturally achieved over a long period of time. The narrow depth was typical of kitchen and dining tables of the era, but may also be used as a console table today. The age related cracks, distress, stains and wear are consistent with a table from the 1800's, and simply add character and appeal to the dining table while not impacting its strength and stability. Note slight age related separation in the plank top. This long green farm table has been restored, cleaned and waxed.
