Antique White Painted Swedish Chest of Drawers

The white and gray layers combine for a captivating effect in this attractive chest of four drawers. While the painted finish is new it compliments the age, style and graceful lines of this chest that dates back to the early 1800's. Look closely and you will see in addition to white and gray a faint touch of green/brown as well. The layered painted finish has been distressed, creating aged character while revealing the natural wood below. Any wear, age related cracks or separation (including drawers) is commensurate with age.
