Antique Pine Original White Painted Drop Leaf Table, Sweden

A drop leaf table was a common element to Swedish country homes as it added flexible dining space but took up little storage. The fact that this one still maintains its original white (almost dove gray) paint that has softened with distress over time is a special find. With the leaves both dropped down, it is only 18.75" wide and has a functional drawer on the "end." Once company or need arrives, both leaves can be extended by resting on the "gate legs" to a maximum 76" long/wide. This inviting Swedish gray side table can also function well as a kitchen or dining table. It is in solid/stable original condition how we purchased it in Sweden and is being sold as is with no new finish, etc.
