Antique Original Orange Painted Lacquered Nightstand Small Chest of Drawers, China

This striking chest of drawers or small console will add a burst of color to any space. The remarkable orange paint is all original, but where it was worn and distressed through years of use the natural elm below is seen, adding dimension and aged character to the piece. Please review the close up photos, especially of the top in order to appreciate the finish and overall "look." At some point the small sideboard was finished with a traditional Chinese buffed lacquer which now protects the beautiful color. The size makes it quite versatile as a nightstand, side table, small console, etc.
