Antique Original Hand Painted Bench With Storage

This bench has a romantic country feel to it thanks to the original hand-painted details that still remain and the gently curved back and arms. The brown painted faux wood finish (traditional for the era) is highlighted with traditional floral details with bouquets of red, yellow and green flowers that have softly faded over generations of use. The seat is hinged, and opens to reveal two separated storage areas. The bench has been restored and given a wax finish, so it is strong, stable and ready to use and enjoy.
