Antique Pine Cylinder Shaped Travel Trunk

There is something captivating about this round/cylinder trunk. The round shape makes it a unique find for any lover of vintage trunks. Perhaps it is the warm pine that has taken on a deep patina with age, or the hand-wrought iron edging, hinges and latch that reveal its age and reinforced it providing extra strength. Likely used as a travel trunk, one wonders if the unique shape allowed it to be used to store rolled maps and charts? You will see in the photos nicks, stains and scratches indicative of generations of use. This unusual round pine trunk has been cleaned and wax.
