Vintage Leather Wingback Chair

Whether you are ready to read a good book or smoke a cigar, this chair invites one to sit back, relax and reflect. The 1940's era still lingers here, and beckons to you as well. This handsome wingback chair is in well-kept original condition and sits comfortably, snug within the traditional wing sides. Take a close look at photos to understand the color; something between an olive green and yellow/gold ochre. The leather has some stains, scratches and scuffs consistent with age and use (cracks seen more in the seat) while the wood legs show typical scuffs/scratches as well. Please examine the close up photos to appreciate the aged vintage leather. This wingback leather chair is being sold in as is, used condition as we found it in Europe and is ready to be used and enjoyed; it will likely benefit from a leather conditioner which we leave to the discretion of the buyer. Seat Height: 18.5"
