Antique Original Blue Painted Sideboard Cabinet from Sweden

While you can frequently still find antique pine cabinets, it is difficult to find a sideboard with exceptional original folk art paint such as this one. The two panel doors are painted with a traditional pink flower motif against a lovely blue background. This cabinet is a charming representation of mid 19th century Swedish craftsmanship, from both the cabinet maker and the painter that created it. Notice the carved and painted details that frame each panel door? The original lock and key still function. Please take a moment to examine the detailed photos closely, to appreciate the delicate painting and delightful details. The original paint is perfectly distressed with age, minor age related cracks/separations do not impair the function nor beauty of this wonderful painted sideboard. This antique sideboard is strong and stable, ready to be used and enjoyed.
