Late 19th Century Antique Old Turquoise Blue Painted Console Table from China

Function, form and interior fashion combine in this console table from China. The eye-catching turquoise blue painted finish is original and has been distressed over generations of use; the areas of distress reveal the natural elm wood below which adds character to this sideboard as well. The two small center doors open to reveal the interior storage area, while the two sliding doors (which flank the center) slide outward allowing you to store throughout the entire interior. The console was restored and is solid, level and ready for use.
