19th Century Antique Tall Oak Cabinet Cupboard Bookcase Painted Black

This charming antique oak cupboard was given a (newer) black painted finish, that has been slightly distressed to compliment the European country style of the display cabinet. The glass doors allow for beautiful display of any collection held within. The scalloped skirt adds a touch of grace while the dramatic bonnet crowns it well. This cabinet is made in 2 pieces - the top can be separated from the base. Note the close up photos to appreciate the finish. This delightful cupboard/cabinet may also be used as a bookcase and has been restored and waxed; it is in working condition and ready for use. Keys are included to use as "pulls" for the doors. Any nicks, scratches and signs of wear are commensurate with age and do not detract from the beauty nor function of the cabinet.
