Pair, Vintage Brown Leather Club Arm Chairs

Vintage leather club chairs are sought after these days for those seeking to add an aged element to a modern home. These welcoming arm chairs will do just that; they are scaled to fit in a variety of settings and have self-trim piping. This pair shows signs of age and wear including leather with multiple scratches, separation at seams (including lower front on one), stains, scuffed and missing button covers, etc. One chair shows more wear than the other, seen in the seat, front, and multiple minor /tiny abrasions along the left side. This pair is sold in used vintage condition and sits comfortably. We invite you to contact us with any questions regarding this pair or other items, and hope to assist you further. Seat height: 16 in
